52 State Street—Boston.

THE subscriber by appointment from the Commissioner of Patents, is Agent of the U. S Patent Office for the purpose of receiving and forwarding to the same all such models, specimens, ingredients and manufactures as shall be intended to be patented, or deposited therein which will be received and forwarded, free of expense and cash, to their owners and with all possible despatch. The subscriber will prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings, will make research into America and Foreign works for establishing the validity or utility of inventions, and render advice in all legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. The experience of fifteen years's practice—an extensive collection of rare works, documents, decisions, &c on mechanical subjects and the Patent Laws—and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, and to which daily additions are being made, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enables me to afford important assistance and information to inventors desirous of securing Patents which in other respects may be difficult of attainment.

Kirkbride's Tattersall's HEAVE POWDERS:

A SAFE, SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE for Heaves, Broken Wind, Chronic Cough, Colds, and all diseases peculiar to the inflammation of the pituitary membrane in the lungs, throat, or nose of the Horse, as follows, the Soundness of the Animal's Wind.

This remedy which has been used with such remarkable success in England, is now offered to Horse owners in the United States as a positive specific for chronic heaves and consuming coughs, and as a safe and sure preventative against the first approaches of the disease, it is confident to compete successfully with the world in the health restoration of the Horse, and at the same time is warranted to be perfectly safe and good, in every respect, for the rest and other cattle, and does not at all pollute or injure the animal, or deter him from use of labor. The following testimonial is from one of the best Farriers in New York, and is given from his knowledge in the medicinal element of Horse nature.

New York, Nov 1 1847

Mr Geo A H Gough & Co—

Gentlemen—For will recollect that I bought a pailful of your Heave Powders some time ago, and have used a pailful of the horses in Jersey to my stables, and I will give the distinction of the wisdom of attempting to use my horses, but I have not, and do not, intend to believe there was any medicine better for the purpose than these. I believe it to be before using the thing my customers generally with Horses. But in the first place I do not believe it necessary to require one to try that single pail to cure the usual of an average case of Heaves, as I have seen and know it to be perfectly good. I hold in the hand is permanent cure.

Respectfully, Yr HIRD, 100 Laurens st

Messrs A H Gough & Co—Sir: I bought, about six weeks ago, a package of Heave Powders to adapt to my favorite horse, who had been troubled with heaves for more than two years. In case was a very bad one, and as severe as to occasionally kill from half his usual labor, and had to stand all day, and as ordinarily used for the disorder, that had no effect by to slightly diminish the violence of the heaving while taking the medicine, but that package of your remedy has completely eradicated the disease, and now his wind is as good as ever it was. It is a month since he has taken the Powders, and I can swear not heave sound.

Respectfully, OSSO W DAVIS,
Monroe, Middlesex Co., N.J.

GREAT CONDITION MEDICINE.

Besides their specific action upon diseased of the lungs and windpipe, the Tattersall's Heave Powders from their great diuretic and mild aperient properties, are so efficacious in horses as experience proved to be to the human race for the removal of impurities of the blood and predisposition to disease. Many a case of fatigue has been prevented and cured by a few doses of the Heave Powders, when thrown into the food they are given to the heated animal after a hard drive or any powers in inclement weather. They are warranted to cure the worst cough in a few days, and will wholly eradicate a recent cold by the second or 3 doses. As a condition medicine they are unequalled, especially where a light hide, staring coat, loss of appetite, etc, denote a derangement of the digestive functions, or existence of bots and worms in the alimentary canal, as explained in the following certificate.

Messrs A H Gough & Co—This package of your Heave Powders that I bought of you for my horse a cough for nearly cured him, but in a different way than I expected. The first dose of Experienced Farmer that I gave instead brought away an immense number of worms from him and I believe they were all the cause of the cough, rough coat etc, which he exhibited, for that package has entirely cured him; his appetite is good, and he is now in good condition. I cheerfully recommend your Heave Powders for worms as well as heaves. Yours, etc M L BARRETT.

East Montpelier, L. C., Oct. 10, 1847.

☞ CAUTION. As several imitations of this valuable and popular remedy are about being put up under the name of "Heave Cure," "Heave Collection," &c., persons are cautioned against the use of them, and to try genuine but Kirkbride's "Tattersall's Heave Powders."

No Kirkbride's to be sold at 100 pounds reserve trial. Price 62 per package of sufficient to fill an ordinary case, 8 dollars.

Sold by Ayer & Brown, Boston, Mass, Fulsom & Co, New York; R. W. Fowle, Baltimore; and by Druggists generally throughout the United States.

DR. CUMMINGS'

Compounded Extract of Sarsaparilla and Dock.

THE articles above named are the principal ingredients of this medicine. With these, others of vegetable origin are combined, designed to render them more active, and consequently more immediately effective.

The Dock or rather a species of it, now ranks as a medicinal plant second to no one of the vegetable kingdom. With the aid of a distinguished chemist whose the proprietor has consulted in the preparation of the compound, he has succeeded in overcoming the difficulty of preserving the extract of the root for any considerable length of time.

For many years the proprietor had tested in his practice the efficacy of the principal substances of the compound and is perfectly satisfied that they possess all the properties for which have been ascribed to them. Recently he conceived the idea of uniting them, which has resulted in the production of the compound. In this the ingredients are found to act in harmony and to lose each of the qualities which they separately possess.

A larger portion of Sarsaparilla is soluble than has generally been supposed. The extract must to be relied on and least liable to decomposition, is procured by subjecting the root to the action of the menstrum usually employed in extracting its virtues, for a long time, without heat or any other accelerating agent. None is permitted to be used in the compound, that has not been obtained by this process and that has been less than a year in preparation.

The Compound is recommended for Scrofula, Erysipelas, Ulcerous affections, Eruptions, and Mercurial diseases. Also for the numerous maladies arising from sedentary employments, occupations of a harassing and irritating nature, intense application, exposures to extremes of heat and cold, overtasking the physical powers and other causes of the exciting cause among which are Neuralgia, Tics, Affections of the Liver, Bilious Complaints, and Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

In diseases of warm climates, with which the proprietor becomes familiar in his practice in Havana, some years since, the compound will prove particularly efficacious, being as a remedy and aperient.

This medicine has been for some time in use in this city where the proprietor has passed nearly half a century of his professional life. It was extensively prescribed by him while in practice, and it is believed to be in favor with his medical brethren in general to whom he is known.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1848.

Dreadful Shipwreck.

A case of shipwreck by far the most awful and heart-rending in its very detail and in amount of loss of life of which we have any recollection occurred at the entrance of Petty Harbour, Newfoundland at an early hour on Saturday morning, the 4th instant

The ship Omega 127 tons Capt Garrick, of and from Liverpool, sailed for New York on the 16 h January last, with a general cargo and 315 passengers She had fine weather the first fortnight, and afterwards encountered very heavy gales, and upon her reaching the southern end of the Banks, she lost her fore yard main topmast rudder, and all her sails She had been thus left at the mercy of the waves for a week when she was fallen in with by the barque Aurora bound for St John, N B, which took off half the passengers, and would have taken the whole, had not a gale sprung up and separated the vessels In returning from carrying the passengers the Omega lost her pinnace second mate and four hands

On the 11th Feb fell in with the brig Barbara, bound to Cork which had taken off all but 30 of the crew and passengers, (which 30 included the captain and first mate) when, as in the former instance, a heavy gale coming on, the Barbara was compelled to part company with the Omega, which latter vessel is supposed to have gone down that night

The Barbara afterwards bore away for Newfoundland but in doing so lost two boats they attempted to reach St John's and mistaking the land the vessel drifted onto the cove and on account of the heavy surf struck a cliff and stove a hole in her bow 35 in In dition damaged to reach the shore, and in about five minutes after the Barbara fell over and went down, carrying with her about 115 souls

There is another incident to notice The Barbara on the 2nd of March descried the homewardbound steamship Hibernia, which, after being signalled hove down, when she was informed that the brig had 150 passengers on board and would some water as th y were very short, the Capt of the Hibernia replied that there was land ahead and that they might steer for that and get water We fear that there were some irregularities on board the Barbara

[Halifax, N S Recorder

☞ The St. John News states that the Aurora had arrived at that port with 73 of the passengers rescued from the Omega, having landed 33 others at Canso, and the remainder, about 60 have died on the passage since she received them Many of the survivors are suffering from sickness During the last 17 days the allowance of food has been limited to 2 1 3 ounces of bread and a wine glass of water each day to every one on board

☞ Our neighbor of the Democrat has quite a hankering for Gen Taylor as a candidate for the Presidency He sees the hand writing upon the wall of the door of the loco party, and having a constitutional abhorrence of being in a minority, he betrays a desire to suppo t the Old General or rather we should say, that by giving an oblique support to Taylor, he is hoping to fright en the Whigs from selecting him as their candidate It is a matter of indifference, what course our neighbor takes So far as he is concerned the church is full and he cannot be in the majority at the next Presidential election

The electoral vote of Maine will be given to the Whig candidate for the Presidency, in spite of la mentations at the Democratic office or elsewhere

☞ It seems to be the opinion of those best informed on the subject of French politics, that the external relations and circumstances of revolutionary France are highly favorable to the establishment of a Republic but that previously to the permanent establishment of this form of government the French people must pass through the discipline of a Regency under the young Count de Paris and the Duchess of Orleans

☞ The public invitation which many of the business men of Boston have extended to the readers of our paper in all parts of Maine, to visit them the coming season and which may be found in our columns, under the head of Boston Business Cards, cannot fail to attract attention, and to be generally accepted, to the entire satisfaction of all concerned

☞ It is understood that Rev Prof Stickney, at the earnest request of a large number of our citizens has consented to repeat his sermon recently preached at Market Hall and addressed to young men, to morrow Sabbath evening, at the First Parish Church

☞ The cause of the sudden illness of Ebenezer French, Esq Chief Engineer of the Fire Department mentioned in our paper yesterday in connection with the fire on May street was a rush of blood to the head He has been bled and we are happy to state has recovered

☞ The Boston papers speak of a man from Maine being found drunk in that city It is a pity that any citizen of Maine should violate the law of his being, by drinking intoxicating liquors, and especially that he should be such a fool as to get drunk while in Boston

TRIAL OF DR. V P. COOLIDGE

MONDAY, March 20, 1848

David Baker sworn. I reside at Waterville and boarded at Williams' on the 30th of September last. Flint, Coolidge and some others boarded there. It was while I was finishing my breakfast that I heard of deceased being found I went and saw the body. I continued to board at Williams' until he was arrested I had conversation with Flint during session of Coroner's jury He repeatedly told me that he had no reason or grounds to suspect Coolidge. I was in Coolidge's office on Friday in the early part of the day at the direction of Mr Bourne to ask Mr Flint to come to his office I went and Flint went up They went into back office, and I cannot tell what was said They were in room 8 or 10 minutes I was in Coolidge's office Friday evening. Dingly and Flint were present; Dr Thayer came in by request. Saturday forenoon most of the time I was in the office of Bourne & Noyes, which I am student. Saturday afternoon I was continually in Coolidge's office with him for a few minutes at a time—most of the time Paul S. Chandler and Flint were present There was then much excitement and suspicion against Coolidge Flint once requested me to pour out the contents of a pail which sat under the sink—this was I think on Monday morning I asked him for the key to my mill and Chandler to go in He went to Williams' hotel I went to the office with Paul S Chandler I heard a common stop pail, but nothing did with it I returned and asked Flint why he wanted me to throw it out and he replied that some fortnight before he had experimented with prussic acid, and there might be some of the drugs in the pail I think afterwards he told me he threw it out I came down with Flint to go before the jury In the course of the journey, some 4 or 5 miles from Augusta he said that he supposed he had got to testify against Dr Coolidge He told me nothing before this although we conversed upon various subjects He did not communicate any thing he was going to testify to I asked him if he knew anything personally of the crime alleged, and he said no I remained down here one night, and returned the next evening, I went back with Howe—Flint remained

Cross examined Chandler and I went into Coolidge's office to look round as we frequently did, no one requested me, went in for nothing particular—examined the contents of the pail as Flint requested—looked out of the window—walked across the floor—talked but can't tell what about—did not entertain care to the Coroner's inquest about the slops or what Flint told me I cannot name any person to whom I then communicated these facts I did not to Flint not to disclose; I might have told him he was placed in a delicate situation, I have no recollection of stating to him that I had known of a person being imprisoned for refusing and then let out I recollect telling him once that we were bound to tell all we knew (Mr Morrill asked if that was before or after Flint told him about the slops—he did not remember The Court then questioned witness and he stated the slops in the pail were of a dark color but nothing to excite his suspicion) Monday and Tuesday night I slept with Coolidge Wednesday night we were all together, Thursday night I slept with Coolidge and After I was frequently with Coolidge When I was with him I several times objected to people seeing him I might have told Williams to prevent people seeing him I don't recollect telling Mrs Williams not to let persons talk with him as he might commit himself—might have said so Saturday we drew up some written instruments in Coolidge's office I wrote a bill of sale of Coolidge's horse and carriage to Flint I don't know where Chandler is This bill of sale was signed by Coolidge; I witnessed it, I understood it to be a sale bona fide I thought so Mr Chandler asked the names particularly I wrote this and Chandler wrote others That bill of sale was burnt—and this too was bona fide Flint and I were present and I think Coolidge This was as No 2 It was burnt because another disposition was made of the property I saw nothing paid or repaid Coolidge assigned this time I had a talk with prisoner about contents of stomach being analyzed I think it was Sunday night in No 2 Williams' Hotel I told him it had been analyzed and what had been found in it

Direct resumed When I was writing Wednesday night I was sent to make a schedule for an assignment to Parker and Phillips after examining it minutely they declined Mr Noyes sent me and told me to do it It was finally made to Mr Noyes who was then absent and knew nothing about it

Charles E Stewart sworn I saw deceased at Gardiner Friday evening before his death, gambling He exhibited considerable sums of money Don't know as he had any thing to drink There were four present, we all came down together Don't know where he went afterwards I have seen him play before (this course of inquiry objected to and sustained if it not admissible)

Cross examined Identifies the watch as the same he sold to the deceased, and he had it when I saw him in Gardiner

Henry Smith sworn I was acquainted with deceased, I saw him Friday evening before his decease, was with him until nine or two o'clock (Mr Noyes asked the question to what they were engaged—objected to—Mr Evans stated that they proposed to prove he was drink ng) I did not see him drink any thing that night I think he was intoxicated—quite as much so as I ever saw him, he did not exhibit any large sums of money except to me There were no others present when he exhibited money He invited me to his room There were other persons present some of the game

Edwin Rivers, sworn—Was present the Monday or Tuesday evening The e were present Mr Evans, Mr Chandler, Flint and myself Flint denied all knowledge of the matter—said he saw nothing unusual in the office Friday morning, Flint said the brandy bottle was as when he found it Friday morning—it then appeared to have brandy in it Coolidge's demands were assigned to me for the benefit of his creditors I was not present when it was done, and it was without my knowledge I have collected between $1500 and $1600—those who paid were among our most independent men

Cross examined When Mr Evans and myself went to Coolidge's office, we went as Counsel—the suspicions against him were then very strong We went to get what information we could and advise the prisoner

Mr Evans here proposed to read from some medical authors—but this ruled out as being neither law or facts under oath—

It was then admitted that a large number of witnesses would testify as to Coolidge's character in the same manner as previous witnesses had done

The defence then put in the statement of Flint and Amasa J Dingley before the Coroner's jury

The Government then recalled Philander Soule,—who testified that since attending Court he had a conversation with Baker He stated to Baker that he believed he once related to him something Coolidge said about analyzing the contents of the stomach, and another individual backed him up in the assertion—and Baker then said he would tell him what he did say, viz that he never had any occasion to suspect Coolidge until Sunday night when it was noised round that prussic acid had been found in the stomach—that he said to Coolidge that he would bet and pay for carrying the contents to Brunswick, that there was no acid there—Coolidge then said if there were acid there it would escape before they got to Brunswick—He also conversed with Baker about his emptying out the water—told him that Flint had he told him to throw out the water from a bowl and he emptied it into a pail, and Baker said that was correct

Cross examined—I am a relative of deceased—have taken much interest in this matter, and I got into conversation with Baker expressly to draw out of him what I could I have talked twice with Flint since he has been here at trial

Mr Nudd here produced two bottles which he said were placed by each other when he took possession of the office One of these bottles was labelled BRANDY The bottle was empty when he took it, but the other bottle near it had some brandy in it

Dr Hubbard resumed—Essential oil of bitter Almonds is said to be a deadly poison It is said to derive its properties from prussic acid in its natural state mixed with vegetable matter

It was here stated that the evidence was closed and the Court was adjourned to to-morrow morning, when Mr. Evans will commence his argument

SEVENTH DAY

AUGUSTA March 21, 1848

Mr Evans addressed the Court and Jury in behalf of the prisoner—

I am now about to perform feebly I am sensible, the duty which devolves upon me as counsel for the prisoner I am about to address to you the last words which shall fall upon your ears before your decision settles the fate of the prisoner Not in my hands think God, is the responsibility—it rests upon you, gentlemen of the jury It is a fearful, terrible responsibility for fallible men to pronounce the doom which sends to the unseen world, in the prime vigor of life, a fellow-being—even though deeply degraded—stained with many crimes—one who has filled up the measure of his guilt He will in no responsible, to decide thus the fate of one whose life heretofore has been scrupulous, depended of no one, he centre of a large circle whose misfortunes have stricken many hearts Mr Evans appealed to the jury to pause of my him, until they candid n agreed upon—until certainly fixes upon their minds, that the guilt of the prisoner is beyond a doubt. That he asked that the government must make the guilt of the prisoner manifest. There is in such cases to be no weighing of evidence no preponderance of proof

In capital trials, the proof is to be satisfactory and conclusive This is the consolation of the jury—that they cannot be called upon to pronounce the prisoner's guilt, unless every reasonable doubt is removed

This case presents several strong and redoubtable features

That the deceased, Edward Mathews came to his death on the night of the 30th September, cannot be doubted—and that after his death some persons inflicted blows to conceal the idea that he had been murdered Who ever heard of such a case? Who ever heard of a case where, after a murder, means were used to make that murder known? The effort is to conceal it as long as possible—to give the perpetrators time enough to escape, to enjoy the fruits of their crime. But here the intention seems to have been to secure immediate detection—to publish the fact immediately It would seem that these blows were inflicted, and the body left thus exposed, by some one who wished to fasten the suspicion upon some one who was not guilty Men do not desire to reveal their own crimes

Not less extraordinary is the accusation that the prisoner at the bar, enjoying great popularity extensive business and ample means and possessing an unspotted reputation, should for the petty motive attributed to him, be guilty of the hideous crime known to society This is so wildly improbable as to call for the clearest and most convincing proof before it is believed

Who committed this crime, we cannot undertake to say—it is shrouded in mystery and darkness—and we will probably remain till that great day when all secrets shall be made known—when—the earth as well as the sea shall give up her dead—the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun—the light of the sun shall be as seven days—and until then it will be known only to Him to whom all hearts are open

The government has taken up four days in examining some sixty witnesses—some upon the smallest and least important matters—the slightest circumstances have been pressed which they could throw the least light on the crime—All are they brought in evidence, whose if to be believed, they might have disposed with most of the other evidence This alone tells in an acknowledgement that the witness is not to be relied upon

Mark the difference in the mode of examination In other cases, the evidence was drawn out by a series of questions. But here, the witness comes on the stand, and gives his testimony in the form of a narrative, without a question merely put to him It would appear from this, that his testimony is old only be presented in an imposing form in the way it was given Mr E said he would consider the evidence first, independent of that of Flint If Flint were the only testimony, he believed the jury would scarcely leave their seats—they would return a verdict without hesitation

Mr E then asked, how stands the case as it was last Saturday morning The death of Mathews none denied He supposed that the idea was abandoned that the blows caused death—Although sufficient to cause it if inflicted in life, the evidences, testify that the appearances indicate that they were inflicted after death The evidence gives no light as to who inflicted the blows—if inflicted after death they have no bearing on the case—it is to be inquired, not only how they affected the deceased, but how they are connected with the prisoner

Mr F then inquired if the death was caused by hydrocyanic acid He said it was extraordinary that of the skillful physicians, and the learned professors, called to testify in this case, not one of them professes to have known previously the effects of this acid on the human or animal system Something was examined which is said to have been the contents of the deceased's stomach But who says with confidence that his bowl or bottle contained the contents of that stomach Here is a great chasm in the proof These learned persons derive their knowledge from books And hundreds, aye, books "learned men are not chemists, chemists are not physicians. What proof is here of the identity of substance examined? They were removed about two o'clock Friday afternoon, and placed in an exposed situation The jury are not to judge it is probable that the contents were not touched—it is enough that they may have been touched Mr Williams was directed by the physicians and coroner that this substance was to be thrown away The village was full in excitement Who can say that Mr W was not seen depositing it there? There it remained till morning, and then, for the first time it was put under lock and key Thus is an acknowledgement that that was the only safe place So it there are reasons to show that some change had taken place. Prussic acid was otherwise detected in this substance It is discovered by the odor and, and by the taste—Where was this odor on Friday? All testify that they discovered nothing then—that when the stomach was opened they found no such odor Was there hot something added?—It may be argued that it was improbable—who had any motive for doing it? It might have done—the acid bottles were absent from the office that evening Mr E said that the coroner had stated that there was blood upon the hatchet

The hatchet is produced and there is blood, Mr E supposed upon it Yet the boy says it was not the office hatchet Flint says there was an axe on the office outside the next morning Neither Flint, Dingley, nor the officer says that is he office hatchet Many persons went in and out of the office, they may have checked the hatchets to lead suspicion in a particular return, why may not the same persons have tampered with the contents of the stomach and infused poison after death When we find that the most sensible quality of the poison was not discovered when the stomach was opened, and when all admit that the odor should have been strongest, and yet after the exposure of the substance this poison, which would consistently be escaping, was found in it does it not raise a presumption, a probability, that the poison had been added after death? It appears that some one had a desire to cause easily discovery and to remove all doubt of murder Who can have had such a desire, but one who wished to turn suspicion in a particular direction

Mr E contended that the tests of prussic acid in this body are wholly unsatisfactory Those who made the experiments are inexperienced They themselves confess that they were so The gentlemen who applied the test admits he knew but little about the matter before this occurrence His knowledge is acquired since He puts acid in the body of an animal—ascertains for it, and finds it there There is nothing remarkable in this He has secreted the books so far as his purpose required A learned man says no man will be to make experiments until he has made many Do you know that this acid is generated by the decay of animal substances? of the human body itself? That he does not know or it was not necessary to his purpose, he has never heard some thing of the kind Prussic acid exists in many substances, it is a compound composed of various substances which exist in nature—Who can say what change takes place in the human system after death? The stomach is like to a great laboratory, in which chemical action is constantly going on One learned gentleman and other physicians but not chemists, says that these tests are as conclusive as the testimony of three witnesses How can he say that, when he admits he does not know what changes take place in the system which he knows not of? He knows what he has seen with, not what others have seen with It is no conclusive as the evidence of three witnesses, whose language we do not understand—that is all we can safely say Those who then undertake to say as to the identity of the contents of the stomach, the fact that it was exposed in an open place, and afterwards shut up in a close house, the sun out, and nothing there but fresh air, and decaying new dust What can they what change I sought produce

Mrs Rankin united with the Congregational Church in Barnstable, more than 20 years ago, where she remained a shining and consistent member until decidedly she has left a husband and nine children to mourn, to whom, she was a faithful wife and mother—[Cor. Kennebec papers please notice.

BY THE LAST MAIL

The Coolidge Case.

Mr Evans closed his argument in behalf of the prisoner about five o'clock on Tuesday, of extraordinary made one of the most ingenious and powerful arguments to which we ever listened his argument was admirable, and its delivery was so Mr Evans most happy and impressive manner He occupied but little time in what might be termed mere declamation or appeals to the feelings of the Jury, although some passages were calculated to deeply affect and powerfully impress them These passages, however were but in aid of forcible, condensed and energetic argument That it was condensed, may readily be inferred from the fact that he occupied less than a day in a comprehensive review of a mass of evidence extending over seven days; and when he concluded, it seemed as if nothing more could be said in favor of the prisoner.

Attorney General Blake followed, and concluded his remarks the next day at nine o'clock, and the case was then submitted to the Jury after an able charge from Chief Justice Whitman, at about half past three o'clock P M As half past five o'clock the Court again assembled, but the Jury said in ward that they had not agreed Probably before the writing of this the Jury have heard charged, either with or without a verdict We expect to receive a communication giving the facts, by mail this morning, in time for this paper If so, it will be added in a postscript.

POSTSCRIPT

AUGUSTA, March 23 4 1-2 P M

Dr Coolidge has been found GUILTY OF MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE but there are some circumstances not brought to light which will probably prevent his sentence The intimations are of the strongest nature that I do not write of them J H C

The Driver of the Augusta stage states that a rumor was current at Augusta, when he left, that Coolidge after the verdict was rendered, committed SUICIDE by taking poison.—Portland Adv

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, March 22

In the Senate to-day, after the presentment of a number of petitions, a resolution was adopted offered by Mr Moor, of Maine calling on the President for the correspondence with Great Britain with regard to the export duty on lumber Mr Yulee, of Florida, from the Naval Committee, introduced a bill for the establishment of a Bureau of Construction in the navy, and one for the purchase of American hemp, which was read a third time and passed

Mr Cass gave notice that he should call up the volunteers bill as soon as the loan bill is disposed of

A message was received from the President, announcing that he had signed the bill for the relief of the heirs of Paul Jones.

On motion of Mr Atherton, the loan bill was taken up, and the amendment requiring the bids to be opened publicly was adopted.

Chloroform Toothache Drops.

It is well known that "CHLOROFORM" has superseded (in a great measure) the use of Ether, as an anodyne of pain, and is now used by the best Surgeons and Dentists in preference A celebrated Chemist (and one of the first manufacturers of Chloroform) has discovered that "Chloroform" with other simple ingredients, will instantly cure the TOOTHACHE. After testing it in many cases it has never failed to give relief, there is no possible danger in using it, as it will not injure the sound tooth a particle All that is necessary to using these Drops, is to saturate wet a bit of cotton or lint, and place it in the cavity of the tooth. Relief will be felt immediate.

Thereby certify, that in consequence of repeated and neglected Colds, my lungs became seriously affected, and for a long time I have suffered with violent pain in the breast, obstinate cough and difficult expectoration. Permanent Cure of Dyspepsia and habitual Costiveness.

To Dr Ralph.

DEAR SIR—I have, as well, almost no occasion for your inestimable Pills. I have used them my six years, as occasion dictated; and I have reason to suppose they have wrought a thorough and permanent change in respect to the functions of the stomach. From habitual costiveness, and the voiding of numerous and slimy stools, I am completely relieved. The multifarious symptoms of Dyspepsia, with which I long came too well acquainted, have so entirely passed away, that I hardly know when they were. Any use you can make of this, or a more full development of my case, is at your service.

Except in an obstetric case, your book (Family Physician) and Pills have been the only physicians in my house for six years.

There are many of my friends around, and more acquaintances, who call for your Pills as a family medicine and for chronic cases. Yours truly, Horatio Waldo.
